

MOBILIZATION CATALYST:

Global City Mission Initiative (GCMI) is seeking Mobilization Catalysts. Mobilization Catalysts seek to help believers move "from the pew to the harvest." They are essential workers to increasing disciple-makers engaging their communities. Global City Mission would like to add one or more Mobilization Catalysts in MidWestern cities -- including (but not limited to) the Columbus, Louisville, Indianapolis, Chicago, or Cincinnati areas.

The vision of Global City Mission is to foster disciple-making initiatives in strategic global cities around the world, starting in North America. If this 2-minute intro video resonates with you, let's talk: <https://youtu.be/MyviN5GdUrU>

In order to effectively advance disciple-making in urban settings, we focus on these three areas of ministry:

- Evangelism & church planting in global cities
- Coaching local believers to reach their communities
- Providing equipping & training for established churches

In GCMI, mobilization involves a robust & multi-layered strategy to advance disciple-making. Mobilization includes recruiting new full-time missionaries, activating (non-clergy) believers to become disciple-makers in their communities, and connecting GCMI to churches for evangelism training. Mobilizers are essentially those agents serving to activate believers into the harvest as disciple-makers.

Mobilization Catalysts may serve in either part-time or full-time roles within the GCMI team. More details here: <https://globalcitymission.org/join-the-team/regional-mobilizer/>

Personal partner-raising (ie., support raising) is required for salary & work-fund/expenses.

If you have a heart for seeing believers get activated to participate in God's mission, let's begin with an exploratory conversation. Reach us at: info@globalcitymission.org
