What it's Like to Live in Amsterdam, NY :

Amsterdam, NY is an up and coming community with growth potential that is not yet fully recognized. Local government is making efforts/strides to offer many different events/venues to get the community engaged. Riverlink Park, Ice skating rink at Veteran's field, Amsterdam Mohawks baseball team, festivals, etc are all examples of unique opportunities offered to folks within the area. There are also great opportunities for families to attend concerts at the historic Mohawk Valley Gateway Overlook perfect for those looking to enjoy some family-friendly fun plus nearby Indian Ladder Farmstead provides stunning views ideal for outdoor activities. Additionally, there are several locally owned stores and eateries providing unique items or delicious cuisine great for any budget. Amsterdam is very conveniently located to a lot of other great areas such as downtown Albany, Saratoga, foothills of the Adirondack mountains, etc.

Amsterdam has continued to grow both as a residential community and as the area's commercial center. Since the opening of the new Big Box retail stores (Wal-Mart and Super K-Mart) in 1993, the Town has seen a rapid increase in development proposals along the corridor. Square footage of commercial space doubled along the Route 30 corridor from 1990 to 2000. Route 67 has also experienced a moderate increase in development. Amsterdam Town reviews each new development proposal, hopefully ensuring that any impact will be mitigated to the extent practical. Residential development is also on the rise in Amsterdam, with approximately 6 new housing starts per year. The regional location, low taxes, rural character, and other amenities have encouraged new residential development.

The Capital Region of New York comprises four major counties, including Montgomery county and Saratoga, a popular summer getaway. The Capital Region also has unique characteristics and a strategic location that suits it well for the potential of economic growth and development.

New York's capital, Albany, is packed full of sights to behold and activities to try. It has beautiful architecture and museums to display its diverse culture and history, such as the Albany Institute of History & Art and the New York State Museum. The city has ample opportunities for shopping, dining, and entertainment.

With easy access to the city and its surrounding areas (like NYC, Boston, Finger Lakes, Catskills, Montreal, etc.), Amsterdam makes a wonderful place to settle in and call home. It offers a safe location that is a little quieter than the city and just outside of the hustle and bustle, but with so much activity happening all around, there is also no shortage of fun to be had.
