

The Center for Whitley County Youth is a local nonprofit that invests in 6th-12th grade students through individual relationships and intentional programs. We currently have an opening at the Center for a 30 hour/week position as a program director of our middle school outreach program and our high school leadership program at our South Whitley location. There is also a potential for this role to increase to a 40 hour/week position, depending on some circumstances.

We are looking for a ministry-minded individual to fill this position, so I thought I would reach out to you all! This position has been posted on the Grace College handshake app, but if you know of any students that are graduating and would fit this role, could you please pass it on to them? The link for the application is found here:

Feel free to forward this email to any other professors in the School of Ministry who could tell their advisees about this opportunity as well. I could not speak more highly of an organization than the Center, and I believe this is a great opportunity as a first full-time ministry job out of college.

If you have any questions, I would be happy to answer them! Thank you!
